A chip of the old block!

Since the age of seven, Junior Member Lucas Salem has been fishing the Ocean State with his grandfather, Orlando Savastano, for various species of inshore and offshore fish.

"It has been a fun time catching different species of fish from fluke and sea bass inshore to tuna and shark offshore," said Orlando. "Throughout the years we have fished with various charters and captains on the east coast.

In the above photo the pair was fishing aboard the Frances Fleet, and on this day fluke and sea bass were the main catch.
