Ocean Props

vs Traditional Propeller Shops

Why do boaters drive to Ocean Props in Middletown, RI?
Why do boat yards take props to Ocean Props when other shops pick up props?

Why? Other shops work on props without talking to the person who drives the boat.

Since 1998 Ocean Props has worked directly with boat owners and captains to improve performance, repair prop damage and do pitch changes for props up to 60 inches.

Each job starts with Prop Scan™ digitized measurements which takes 20 minutes and is FREE. Modifying the blades is done free-hand. Computer reports verify the finished work meets ISO High Accuracy. Measurements are saved as computer files guaranteeing future repairs will give identical results.

After 20 years doing all the work himself, owner Mike McMillin is ready to sell Ocean Props and retire. Customer referrals built Ocean Props into a successful business and Mike looks forward to training a new owner to continue that success.

What's needed: The ability to solve problems with your head and work with your hands plus boating experience. No prior propeller repair experience required.

Congratulations to member ROBERT MATTESON who has been entered into the RISAA HALL OF FAME when he caught this 20.46 lb. BLUEFISH on July 6.

Bob was fishing with his friend, Bob Fournier, on Bob's boat Four Play and caught the fish using a menhaden for bait. There were fishing near the Jamestown Bridge.

Bob's catch beat the previous Hall of Fame record 17.46 lbs. fish set in 2013.
