Targeting Block Island Trophy Striped Bass with Live Bait

featuring

Capt. Brian Bacon

Capt. Shamus Mara

AND

Captain Brian Bacon and Captain Shamus Mara of Big Game Sport Fishing have been fishing the Southern New England waters for most of their lives. As co-owners of one of Rhode Island's premier charter boat services, the Big Game crew has a true passion for the thrill of the hunt, love for the ocean and putting fish in the box! Fishing from inshore, to the canyons, the Big Game team does it all and uses a number of unique tactics in targeting all of the different species the Southern New England waters have to offer with a proven track record for putting big fish in the boat, and their method for targeting trophy striped bass is no different.

In their seminar they will discuss the importance of weather, tides, moon phases and the most productive times to go fishing. They will also talk about day and night fishing, areas where they fish, the tackle and rigs they use, and will share their different tips and techniques when targeting stripers, and properly releasing your catch.
