BOB MURRAY

admires a perfect black sea bass that he caught in July, not because of the size, but because it was a perfect specimen with erect fins and perfect color.

LEO SWIDER

went on a charter fishing trip in Bermuda in July and caught wahoo, blackfin and yellowfin tuna, and little tunny. He said it was nonstop action and he was the only fisherman on the boat. Here Leo poses with the mate while he displays a wahoo. Leo is totally a catch & release angler, so the boat's captain kept the catch.
